William Dunbar Seriously Ill.

On Thursday morning William Dunbar was stricken with paralysis at the Wailuku Hotel and is considered in a critical condition.

Mr. Dunbar came to Maui about two months ago and entered the employ of the Wailuku Sugar Company as a concrete expert. During the short time he has been here he has made many friends. He was taken to the Malulani Hospital and placed under the care of Dr. R. H. Dinegar.

Kinross Overdue.

The Kinross from Chili with nillates is now twenty five days over due and much anxiety is felt for her as severe storms have raged the northern part of the torrid zone of late.

A tug was dispatched some days ago to search for her and after two days search returned with no tidings of her.

More Or Less Pungent.

A Pertinent Question.—In a North of England college a student greatly annoyed the professor of natural sciences by asking frequent and foolish questions. One day, after he had interrupted the lecturer several times with irrelevant remarks and questions, he asked, "Professor, how long can an animal live without brains?"

"Well," was the professor's reply, "I really don't know, Mr. F.—How old are you?"—Tit-Bits.

Proud Moment.—Mike "O' her yez wor foined foive dollars fer assault ing McDooley."

Pat: "O' wor; an' it wor a proud momint whin O' hur rdth'sintince, b'gorry!"

Mike: "P'fat's th' rayson av thot?"
Pat: "Faith, an' it show'd which av us had th'best of th' contist."—Detroit Tribune.

Getting Even.—During the South African War, when that country was under martial law, every letter which was sent home had to pass through the hands of the Press censor.

A private in the Yorkshire Volunteers had sent four or five letters home, telling his parents about the doings of the regiment, which portions had been obliterated by the censor, and were therefore unreadable on their arrival at the destination.

He decided to get square with the censor's and at the foot of the next letter he wrote the following words: "Please look under the stamp."

At the censor's office the letter was opened and read as usual. The officer in charge spent some time in steaming the stamp from the envelope so that he could read the message which he was certain he would find there.

At last his patience was rewarded; but his feelings can be better imagined than described when he read these words:

"Was it hard to get off?—Tit-Bits.
